DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Min (6,577,288).

Regarding Claim 1, Min teaches a housing for protecting a flat panel display (2 in fig.1) and/or a backlight module, comprising: a rear blade, a front blade, and a side blade extending between and connecting the front blade and the rear blade (fig.3; column 2, line 63- col.3, line 48; Figs.1-2; Col.1, lines 27-62), wherein the side blade is integrated with and sandwiched between the front blade and the rear blade to form a linear frame (Figs.1-2,5) having a cross-section in a shape (figs. 3-5; column 2, line 63- col.4, line 2) , and the linear frame is allowed to fold to surround the partial or the whole edge of the flat panel display and/or a backlight module (Figs. 1-2; Col.1, lines 19-63; figs. 3-5; column 2, line 63- col.4, line 2; Col.4, lines 10-53).

Regarding Claim 2,8, 13, 19, 24, 28, Min teaches the linear frame further comprising at least a binding unit on the surface of the linear frame to fix and close the two ends of the frame; and the binding unit is a combination of a hook and a groove (fig.3; column 2, line 63- col.4, line 2).

Regarding Claim 3, 7, 14, 18, 25, Min teaches rear blade or the front blade has at least a cut or a gap; and the cut is V-cut (fig.2; col.1, lines 48-62).

Regarding Claim 4, 15, 26, Min teaches the length of the frame is not greater than the peripheral length of the flat panel display and/or a backlight module (fig.3).

Regarding Claim 5, 16, 27, Min teaches frame has at least one opening for an electric cable connecting to the flat panel display and/or the backlight module (fig.2; col.1, lines 25-62).

Regarding Claim 6, 17, 23, Min teaches at least one separate blade locating on the inner surface of the side blade (fig.3; column 2, line 63- col.3, line 48).

Art Unit: 2673

Regarding Claim 9, Min teaches the flat panel display comprises a panel and a backlight module (fig.3)

Regarding Claim 10, 20, 29, Min teaches flat panel display is a liquid crystal display panel (10 in fig.5).

Regarding Claim 11, Min teaches the frame is made by plastic or metal (fig.3; col.3, lines 14-16).

Regarding Claim 12, Min teaches flat panel display, comprising: A display panel; and a housing for protecting a flat panel display (2 in fig.1) and/or a backlight module, comprising: a rear blade, a front blade, and a side blade extending between and connecting the front blade and the rear blade (fig.3; column 2, line 63- col.3, line 48; Figs.1-2; Col.1, lines 27-62) wherein the side blade is integrated with and sandwiched by the front blades and the rear blades to form a linear frame (Figs.1-2,5) having a cross-section in a shape (figs. 3-5; column 2, line 63- col.4, line 2) and the linear frame is folded to surround the partial or whole edge of the flat panel display and/or a backlight module (Figs. 1-2; Col.1, lines 19-63; figs. 3-5; column 2, line 63- col.4, line 2; Col.4, lines 10-53).

Regarding Claim 21, Min teaches method for assembling a flat panel display, comprising following steps: (A) providing a flat panel display (2 in fig.1) or a backlight module, and a housing for protecting a flat panel display and/or a backlight module, comprising: a rear blade, a front blade, and a side blade extending between and connecting the front blade and the rear blade (fig.3; column 2, line 63- col.3, line 48; Figs.1-2; Col.1, lines 27-62) wherein the side blade is integrated with and sandwiched by the front blades and the rear blades to form a linear frame (Figs.1-2,5) having a cross-section in a shape (figs. 3-5; column 2, line 63- col.4, line 2) and the linear frame being folded to surround the partial or whole edge of the flat panel display and/or a backlight module; and (B) folding or bending the frame to surround at least part of the edge of the flat panel display and/or the backlight module (Figs. 1-2; Col.1, lines 19-63; figs. 3-5; column 2, line 63- col.4, line 2; Col.4, lines 10-53).

Regarding Claim 22, Min teaches flat panel display comprises a panel and a backlight module.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 7-6-2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Min does not teach a housing for protecting a flat panel display and/or a backlight module, comprising: a rear blade, a front blade, and a side blade extending between and connecting the front blade and the rear blade to form a bent shape and in which the frame is bent or folded around the peripheral edges of a flat panel display to form a one-piece, easily assembled housing for the flat panel display.

However, Min teaches a housing for protecting a flat panel display and/or a backlight module, comprising: a rear blade, a front blade, and a side blade extending between and connecting the front blade and the rear blade to form a bent shape (fig.3; column 2, line 63- col.3, line 48; Figs.1-2; Col.1, lines 27-62), and in which the frame is bent or folded around the peripheral edges (Col.4, lines 38-53) of a flat panel display to form a one-piece, easily assembled housing for the flat panel display (Figs. 1-2; Col.1, lines 19-63; figs. 3-5; column 2, line 63- col.4, line 2; Col.4, lines 10-53).

5. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., a flat panel display in which the frame is bent or folded around the peripheral edges of a flat panel display to form a one-piece, easily assembled housing for the flat panel display are not recited in the rejected claim(s) 1,12,21. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 30-37 are allowed.
8. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art fails to teach a housing for protecting a flat panel display comprising a side blade extending between and connecting the front blade and the rear blade; wherein the side blade is transformable from a liner shape to a bent shape, the side blade extends along a straight line when the side blade is in the linear shape, and the side blade is bent to form one angle when the side blade is in the bent shape.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
